

INCREASING NUMBER OF JAPANESE GIRLS ENTERING INDUSTRY

Over Sixty Thousand Working in Factories of Tokio Alone; Work Long Hours

TOKIO.—Many progressive young Japanese women aspire to become detectives, says the Yomuri in a recent resume of activities of "self-supporting women." (In the average two dozen women apply at a certain local detective bureau each month seeking employment as "sluicbs.") The bureau points with pride to two shining exponents of the profession, Miss Jakiko Nakahara and Miss Tsuruko Sato, through whose efforts many difficult cases have been solved.

The majority of employed girls are in factories, about 66,500 of these working in Tokio. Out of 317 factories investigated by the City Social Bureau, in 28 the girls were found working more than 12 hours a day. The average wage is Y. 25.19 a month.

About 2,000 women make a living teaching "manga" singing to Japanese music of the shamisen. These make up income of about Y. 100 a month.

Bus conductors are those most noticeable to foreigners in Tokio. They number about 150, others better educated gain the better positions in the company as office clerks or inspectors.

There is always a shortage of telephone girls, 5,000 being required by the 15 exchanges in the city, and where girl employees have proved of great usefulness in the railway offices as ticket sellers. They get up to Y. 40 salary. Those employed as shop girls in big department stores receive Y. 30, the largest department store employing as many as 500.

The largest income is commanded by the hair dressers. Those in high class salons receive as much as Y. 100 monthly and those of the poorer districts Y. 200.

About 500 girls are employed as ushers in theatres and moving picture shows. There are teachers, doctors, seamstresses, nurses, professional modelers graduated from the fashion magazine academy, journalists, magazine writers and painters. To these may be added in the country, the woman horse conductor and the girl who dives for shell-fish.

The Dangerous Hen
The three-year-old girl started down the street and stopped. Her mother saw her do so and noticed a dog a little way ahead. Supposing the child was afraid to pass the dog, she went to her help. But she found it was not the dog, but some chickens which were vigorously searching beside the walk, that she hesitated to pass.

"Why, Betty," the mother cried, "are you afraid of chickens?"
"Yes," Betty candidly admitted, "they kicked at me."—Ladies Home Journal.

The HOME GARDEN

What is Home without a Garden?
LAND HARD ON THE LUMPS

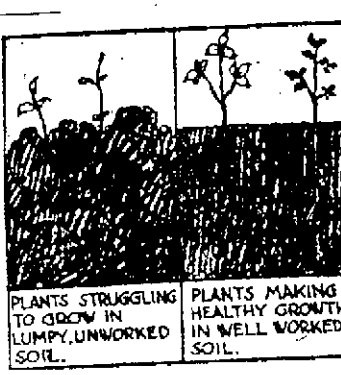

When you are doing your spading this spring, remember that every lump of earth you break up fine is adding fertility to the soil. Soil should be worked fine. Pulverizing the soil is almost equivalent to adding a supply of fertilizer.

The lumps lock up the plant food and the tiny roots will creep around in the finer softer soil and avoid the lumps, failing to penetrate them if they are too hard. The finer the soil, the more available is the plant food so that every additional bit of pulverizing given the soil makes it that much more fertile.

The plants must find their food in liquid form, the rains or artificial watering furnishing the solution to reach out the fine filth the moisture penetrates evenly. Hard lumps it will not penetrate except slowly.

Break up the lumps. With the soil dug and broken finely to a foot depth, even a poor soil will show a surprising increase in growth over the same soil which has been coarsely dug and in which the lumps have not been well broken up.

With the soil well pulverized, the task of hoeing or working with a hand cultivator to keep down the weeds is much easier. Then when the dry surface stirred and established a dust mulch which is the finest protection against dry weather, keeps the soil moist so the roots can

How to Rid the Arms of Objectionable Hairs

(Aids to Beauty)
A simplified method is here given for the quick removal of hairy or fuzzy growths and rarely is more than one treatment required. Mix a stiff paste with some powdered talc and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every hair has vanished. This simple treatment cannot cause injury, but care should be exercised to get real talc.

TILLMAN BROTHERS

OVER 2,500 PUPILS ARE ENROLLED FOR HALF-TIME TRAINING

Hambrecht Reports on First Year of New Compulsory Education Law

OVER FORTY THOUSAND ENTERED IN DAY AND EVENING CLASSES

Wisconsin Only State Requiring Half-time Schooling

MADISON, Wis.—The first year of operation of the new compulsory part-time education laws of Wisconsin has resulted in 2,511 pupils between the ages of 14 and 16 taking half-time instruction in the schools of the state. A total of 45,322 persons have been enrolled in day and evening continuation courses.

This report was made Thursday by George P. Hambrecht, director of vocational education, who concluded that there will undoubtedly be a further increase in the half-time attendance during the next year when all cities will be providing fully for half-time attendance.

This provision of the law, which Wisconsin alone of all states has adopted, requires that all children between the ages of 14 and 16, not enrolled for full-time instruction, must attend school half-time, and makes it obligatory on the schools to so arrange their courses of instruction as to take care of the new pupils. It is expected that some time will be needed to bring all children within provisions of the law.

There was an increase of nearly 2,000 in the total number of day and evening pupils in 1922 over 1921, the reports show, the number growing from 12,529 last year to 45,322 during the present year. Of these 22,300 are day pupils and 23,020 evening pupils.

The number taking part-time instruction fell from 20,559 in 1921 to 18,433 in 1922, while the all-day instruction increased from 990 to 1,709.

While part-time enrollment for 1922 is less than the part-time enrollment for 1921 this difference is more than made up by the half-time enrollment for 1922. The board of vocational education reports.

There will undoubtedly be a further increase in half-time attendance during the next year when all cities will be providing fully for half-time attendance between the ages of 14 and 16, and also due to the increased industrial activity and the perfection of cooperative arrangements with industry on a half-time basis.

There will also probably be an increase in part-time attendance, the reports fully complying with the part-time attendance up to 18 years of age. Each half-time attendance in 1922 counts two and one-half times as much as each part-time attendance. As a result most schools have considerably more to take care of this year than last year figuring on the total pupil hour attendance basis.

It is also noted that there is a tendency toward increased full-time attendance and that evening school enrollment and attendance is greater this year than last.

NOTABLE COMEDY IS "MR. PIM" AT LA CROSSE FRIDAY

Laura Hope Crews Heads New York Company Offering Play of Season

A. L. Brainerd will present "Mr. Pim Passes By," the delightful comedy by A. A. Milne, at the La Crosse Theatre tomorrow night. Miss Laura Hope Crews heads the original New York company of players in the presentation of this comedy which had a remarkable record during long runs in London and New York. Included in the cast are Dudley Digges, as Marden, the rather conventional bound husband; Leonard Mudie, as Susan Bradshaw, Esquire's wife; Augusta Halliday and Margaret Barr. The leading roles of the comedy include Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia have greeted "Mr. Pim Passes By" as the one outstanding, worthwhile comedy of the year.

"Mr. Pim Passes By" has such unusual situations and such sparkling dialogue, that it keeps the audience in a jolly good humor throughout the entire evening. It presents no problems, but is just good, honest fun. The scene is laid in the home of George Marden. His wife, Olivia, played by Miss Crews, in her teens had married a company promoter on in Australia who had wound up in jail where he died. Save for a slight difference over the engagement of their niece the Mardens are living happily until along comes Mr. Pim, an old gentleman from Australia of a forgetful frame of mind. He drops a remark which indicates that Olivia's husband is not dead after all. To say that there is consternation in the Marden household is putting it mildly. In the end the entanglements are all unraveled by Mr. Pim and the Mardens settle down once more to a calm and peaceful rural life. To miss Mr. Pim is to miss one of the real joys of the theatre.

Avoiding Complications

"Couldn't you get a high-salaried position in the movies?"

"Why should I?" inquired Senator Sarghram. "I've got trouble enough with the home folks trying to get them government places, without being called on to use my influence to make everybody a film star."

Counteracted

"I'm surprised to hear Mande is married. She once told me that she would never promise to obey any man."

"Oh she got around that by making the bridegroom promise never to command."—Boston Transcript.

DETERMINED SOUL WINS ROMANCE AT AGE OF SEVENTY

NEWARK, N. J.—Marshall Burus Lloyd, wealthy retired manufacturer of Menominee, Mich., advertised his baby carriage business with this verse:

"There is no chance, no destiny, no fate,
"Can circumvent or hinder or control
"The firm resolve of a determined soul."

With this sentiment Mr. Lloyd approached his three score years and ten, firm in the conviction that romance would enter his life.

Thursday he asserted that his conviction had proved correct. He announced he had married, in the brick Presbyterian church in New York. Mrs. Tourville Pollen of Orange, N. J., whose courtesy had won him attention when she waited upon him in a novelty shop in Florida this winter. After a honeymoon in California the couple will live in Menominee. Mr. Lloyd said he recently sold his business for about $3,000,000.

MAIL CARRIERS IN COUNTRY DISTRICTS GATHER CROP DATA

WASHINGTON.—Utilization of the service of rural carriers for gathering crop data and other agricultural statistics was authorized Thursday by Postmaster General Worli.

"The postoffice department realizes," the postmaster general said, "that the service the rural carriers could render would be of tremendous value to the agricultural interests of the country. It is understood that the filling out of the report blanks required but a few moments each month."

Mechanics' wages in Canton, China, have been increased 20 to 50 per cent.

LAW ENFORCEMENT WILL BE ISSUE IN COMING CAMPAIGN

Obedience for Rich as Well as Poor Stressed by Comings in State Speeches

MADISON, Wis.—The problem of law enforcement, of bringing the rich as well as the poor, the powerful as the weak, to obedience to state laws, is being stressed by George F. Comings, lieutenant governor, in campaign speeches which he is making throughout Wisconsin for re-election at the September primaries.

Lieutenant Governor Comings, who has not as yet formally announced his candidacy on the La Follette progressive republican ticket, says that he is expected to represent the La Follette faction on the ticket and that his announcement would be no more than a formality.

During the past week he has addressed meetings in Marquette county at Westfield, Lawrence, the Russell Mar community club and at Endeavor.

"While the anti-saloon league is calling for law enforcement, with reference to the prohibition statute, it seems to me that there is opportunity for a general appeal for law enforcement with reference to all state laws," Lieut. Gov. Comings said.

"A campaign is needed to secure enforcement of the income tax laws, of the laws against illegal combinations of trade, and of all laws in the interest of the citizens of the state."

"Law enforcement is an issue that will be stressed more and more during the coming campaign."

SULPHUR CLEARS ROUGH, RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthol-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Menthol-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre At Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your "charon." It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

ANNOUNCEMENT

In obeying a sincere desire to render the highest possible service to motorists, we have accepted the dealership of FRANKLIN motor cars in La Crosse and vicinity. The present and future motoring public, we are confident, will agree that the sale of such fine cars as the Franklin will prove rich in consequent good-will for our organization.

Motorists today demand full value in service for every dollar expended for an automobile. They insist on knowing how the car is built, what it does and how far it will go toward meeting their motoring requirements.

From the start the present period of careful, thoughtful buying has been marked in the Franklin organization by a remarkable sales record. Franklin sales during 1921 were 81% of 1920's high record against 59% for the industry.

These splendid sales indicate that Franklin performance is equal to the most rigid requirements placed upon it by exacting car owners. Back of this performance is the company's faithful adherence to the original Franklin principles of lightweight, flexibility and direct air-cooling. The striking advantages of the car built on these three fundamental principles are known to Franklin owners in these economy terms:

20 miles to the gallon of gasoline. 12,500 miles to the set of tires. 50% slower yearly depreciation. (NATIONAL AVERAGES).

MILITARY FUNERAL HELD AT SPARTA FOR ROBERT EVANS

Overseas Veteran Who Was Wounded and Gassed Dies
in California

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH GIVES FINE CONCERT MONDAY

Church Presents Service, Depicting First Eastertide on Sunday

SPARTA, Wis.—One of the most largely attended military funerals ever held in Sparta, was the one which was held in the First Methodist church, Sunday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock.

Robert Evans was a son of Mr.
and Mrs. Lewis Evans of this city.
He died in Berkeley, Cal., April 8, probably from the effects of mustard gas poisoning received while in the service overseas.

He was born and reared near Sparta, and received his education in the schools of this city. While still in high school, he answered the call to arms, and went overseas with Co.
B of Sparta, taking an active part in many engagements in the world war.
He was wounded in the leg with a bullet from a machine gun, and later after being returned to the service, suffered a severe illness from mustard gas and again later was taken sick just four days before the armistice was signed. He was finally brought to the States and somewhat recuperated while in an eastern hospital, was sent home.

Wed on Eve of Enlisting
Just before going into the service, he was united in marriage to Miss Edna Nicol of this city.

After returning home, he took advantage of the government's offer to finish his education and began a course of study in the University at Madison. His wife's health having failed from a severe attack of rheumatism, he received permission to transfer his scholarship to the Leland-Stanford University at Berkeley, Cal., where they went, hoping that the change of climate would benefit Mrs. Evans' health. He died quite suddenly in his home in Berkeley, and the remains were sent to Sparta, accompanied by his wife, and arrived here on Friday.

Sunday afternoon, the body was removed from the home of his parents to the Methodist church, where it laid in state until 2:15 o'clock, surrounded by beautiful floral offerings and Easter lilies and ferns that adorned the church.

Rev. E. E. North, pastor of the church, conducted the funeral service. A double quartette furnished the music. The military organizations in the city attended in uniform, and the church was packed to its utmost capacity, and a throng of people stood without, who could not get in the church.

As the body was carried from the church, the Sparta High school band, under the leadership of Prof. C. D.
Dextater, played "Nearer My God to Thee." There was a large representation of the American Legion, the Headquarters Company, the Spanish
American War Veterans, the Ladies' Auxiliaries of the orders, and the Knights of Pythias.

Scores of autos and a large concourse of people followed the procession to Woodlawn cemetery where interment was made, and the final military honors were given.

Robert Evans is survived by his wife, his parents, one sister, Mrs.
Richard DeWitt, who is ill in St.
Mary's hospital and unable to be at the funeral, and three brothers.

Uses River as Washtub
The River Seine is the great wash-tub of Paris. Here, as in Normandy, and Brittany and other place, the women wash in the river. Hundreds of white wash barges, or "lavoirs," are anchored along its banks. These boats are sunk just deep enough to bring the water to a convenient height. There is a row of wash stalls on each side. A "stall" in one of these barges is rented for two sous a washing. Here thousands of women may be seen washing busily. No hot water is used, often no soap, and the women lean over the edge of the boat, as though it were a tub, and bet the linen with wooden paddles.

The noise of these beating paddles, the steady "tap-tapping," can be heard a long distance. The clothes are dried on the grass, or on lines along the banks of the river.—Austin

HILL'S C. B. Q. Tablets are best by test.
Try this simple experiment:
1. Drop a C. B. Q. Tablet in a glass of clear water.

2. Instantly the tablet begins disintegrating or "breaking up."

3. In 10 seconds the medicinal properties are thoroughly mixed with water.

Thus, HILL'S C. B. Q. Tablets act immediately, give relief without delay and begin checking colds and La Grippe long before ordinary tablets, by actual test, are absorbed by the stomach juices. To prove this, subject other than C. B. Q. Tablets to the test, and observe that in most instances an hour or more is required for complete disintegration.

TABLOID MUSICAL SATIRE LEADS THE MAJESTIC VODVIL

"Fascination" and Numerous Other Big Acts Open Thursday for Rest of Week

"Fascination," a sort of tabloid musical satire, with many features of beauty, and "The Mystic Garden," a neoromantic novelty of ambitious proportions, are two of the featured acts on the Majestic program for the last half of the week, opening Thursday.

"Fascination" has three scenes, and the characters are a lovely woman, "Temptation," a clubman, and his Satanic Majesty. The music is by William Friedlander and the book and lyrics by Will H. Hough. The author of "A Modern Eve," "The Time," "The Place and the Girl," and other famous musical comedy successes, elaborate scenery and dances, with catchy music and bright lyrics, make this one of the most notable acts now in vogue.

"The Mystic Garden" centers about several mysterious illusions, in which works of art are created instantaneously, beautiful ladies appear and disappear in a moment, heavy bodies float in the air, and so on. The stage is dressed with oriental splendor for the act, and the numerous illusions performed are extremely baffling and novel.

Lyle and Virginia, billed as ginger snaps, get under way with their unusual act by crushing a brick through a store window and extracting instruments, flute, violin and concertina all have their turn, and the act progresses with an abundance of clever dancing, snappy patter and amusing comedy. Ginger, pep and jazz are the keynote of the whole affair, which comes heralded as a sure-fire hit.

Patric and Mullen are a youthful pair highly talented and unusually personable, which attributes and a keen knowledge of what the theatre-going public desires, give them a deserved popularity as entertainers. Their act opens with a comedy bit of patter between the two, and then from the ladies dress "a little of this and a little bit of that," and trimming a hat while singing a song. This is followed by a pretty telephone number that finishes with dancing.

Ernest Hiatt is a most likable chap possessing brains of personality, good looks and a most ingratiating way. From the moment he takes his appearance on the stage until he finishes delivering his heterogeneous monologue and singing his foolish songs, there is not one second of his fifteen minutes in which he allows his audience to lapse into a serious state of mind. Following his songs and talk Mr. Hiatt brings the offering to a close with his well-known "Nutt" number called "The World's Largest Story," a comedy classic made famous by this entertainer.

ART NOTES

Thoughts, Opinions, Remarks on the Pictures; and, Perhaps, Some And-so-Forth.

These opinions have been expressed by various persons, heard at different times since the exhibit began. (Quotation marks are omitted.)

If I were showing an out-of-town friend the interest, and points of our city, it could be with pride that I could take him to see the famous pictures at the Chamber of Commerce, brought here by our worthy, but not too well-served Art Association. Perhaps his hobby might be the study of human faces. In that case he would have plenty of material for thought in the beautiful expression on the faces of the mother and child in the picture called "Dressing Gown," in the "On the Hill-Top," "The Rainy Day," in which latter, one easily sees the feeling of disgust and disappointment on the faces of the girls kept in drooping the rain; in "Gracie," in "The Boyer," "Gracie," and "The Thinker." The adorable, rough-looking in Gracie's blue eyes as she looks at you; the unstudied, natural looks and charm of face and figure in "Gracie"; the refined beauty of the winsome faces in "On the Hill-Top"; the shrewd, sophistication in the "Little Boyer's" face; and the pathetic expressed in both form and features of "A Thinker," as he sits on his unfinished wood-pile and draws at his old pipe while he eases for a moment his weary muscles—each has its individual interest and charm, and produces in the discriminating spectator a different—oh, so very different—but appropriate—set of emotions.

But maybe your fancy is rather for outdoor scenery, says my voluble enthusiastic gallery visitor. If you like nature, the exhibit is nearly as good as a railroad or auto ride across the state, minus the dust and smoke, and expense of travel. The Mill Stream reminds strongly of local views; it could have been painted in many places in Wisconsin; and, how charming a view it is! Gorgeous in coloring, perfectly painted, rendered with vigor and splash—a very joy of painting! And how it makes one wish to grab fishing tackle and follow that stream just a few paces further up beyond the mill, where some speckled or rainbow trout are certain to be lurking. Then the certainty and calm of "Captain's Day," or "Peace of Sleeping Nature," or the mystical charm of the dew-drenched, new-born day of Edward Dufur's "Early Morning," (the latter with its added interest of technique. (Note how the paint is put on.) Nor can finer snow scenes be imagined, from the pictorial or technical viewpoint. They are warm in color, attractive as scenes and perfectly observed and recorded. Make a telescope of your hands or catalog and look at "Fairland" from a distance of twelve or fifteen feet, and notice how the scene gains in depth and brilliancy. To exhibit all its charm, to be thoroughly enjoyed, it needs just such shutting off of the cross-lights which come from the windows. * * *

On visitor stood for a time just looking about and then exclaimed: "There are portraits, figure pieces, still-life, landscapes, water and wood-still-life. What a variety! Here is something to satisfy the most whimsical and fastidious art lover. Why don't you charge admission for this, as is done in other places? We should at least pay for the catalogues."

Don't let timidity or false modesty, or any such, keep you from paying your annual dues now, or from both the secretary to write out membership cards for you as a new member. She will pardon the interruption. She likes to send out such cards. Be bold as a lion. Fancy yourself possessing that splendid symphony in blue—"The Upper Hudson"—and having it appropriately placed and well lighted in a large-ish drawing-room with a good dash of yellow all about. Wouldn't it be gorgeous? It would give distinction to a whole house, and completely furnish beauty to one apartment for beauty has nothing whatever to do with quantity of furnishings or decorations. Indeed, many homes are so filled, so heaped with a number of things supposed to be pretty in themselves, that there is no room left in the house for beauty. A few exquisite things—a choice picture or two, a handsome vase, a few well-placed pieces of bric-a-brac and furniture, with an excellent rug or two,—will bring more real beauty into a room than the walls plastered with needless pictures, and corners crowded with all sorts of furnishings, be they never so expensive. Learn this lesson from the careful selection, the right omission, in any well-composed picture. One such gem is quite enough to furnish a suite with beauty.

GOETHALS APPROVES PLAN TO RECLAIM WESTERN DESERT

Great Columbia Basin "Dust-Eaters Despair" to be Irrigated

SPOKANE, Wash.—The Columbia Basin desert, which the "dust eaters" when they struggled to "dry farm."

"Now the desert itself is on the verge of defeat."

The Columbia Basin is a tract of more than 2700 square miles in southeastern Washington. Scattered over its wastes are monuments to the failure of the "dust eaters." Scores of deserted homestead shacks, left by the dry farmers who, after years of unprofitable toil, were driven out by the desert.

But a change is to come. In place of the deserted shacks, 20,000 to 40,000 irrigated farms will appear. At a cost of $25,000,000 water will be turned into the basin and will reclaim nearly 2,000,000 acres.

Such are the hopes for the Columbia Basin project, world's largest reclamation plan to get beyond the "dust talk" stage.

Goethals O. K.'s It

Maj. Gen. George Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal, after a thorough investigation of the project has declared in a report that it is entirely feasible.

Goethals estimates the whole area can be turned into productive land at a cost of $145 an acre. He thinks the project should be financed directly by the government.

Goethals in his report declares the whole reclamation project could be finished in six years.

Ages ago, the Columbia River, before sweeping south and west where it now makes the Oregon-Washington boundary, formed a huge inland lake. Its channel shifted, and the lake was drained. It left the Columbia Basin rich in deep soil, but climatic conditions brought a lack of moisture.

Two Plans

Two main plans for irrigating the big tract have been put forward. One contemplates a gravity system with water from another state. The other would pump water from the Columbia River.

Concentration of the watershed of northwestern Montana and northern Idaho and delivery to the project by a canal-tunnel-lake line 30 miles long is the method for supplying the gravity system.

An area of approximately 25,000 square miles drains into Pend Oreille Lake, in northern Idaho. From this, the Pend Oreille River carries it to the Columbia.

At Newport, on the Idaho-Washington line, it is proposed to divert 6,000,000 acre feet for the Columbia Basin. Through a system of concrete lined canals, long tunnels and natural and artificial lakes the water will be carried over hills and ravines to the arid acres.

Tunnels, up to 18 miles in length, huge steel pipes, which as inverted siphons will carry a flow equal to that of the Merrimac River down one hill and over the other; a monster aqueduct over the Spokane River; within this city's limits—these are some of the features connected with the big task, which would put water on 1,750,000 acres of tested land, flood additional lands occasionally for use as pasture, and through a system of power plants along its course provide cheap electric power for operation of canneries and other seasonal industries, besides pump water to higher lands.

Pumping Project

Another plan—termed the Columbia pumping project—would haul water from the Columbia River 600 feet above its level with a gigantic battery of powerful pumps, stretching for more than a third of a mile. The Grand Coulee, once the bed of the Columbia, would again carry water, this time as the principal canal for the system. A slightly smaller acreage would be watered through this plan.

Traversing the area are four trans-continental railway lines and several short roads. The Columbia and Snake rivers are navigable, and the state highways afford yet another outlet.

Nearly equidistant between Spokane on the east and Seattle, Tacoma, and Portland on the west, the project has unrivaled facilities for shipping its products to the east, to the coast district and to the orient.

Construction of the project is a Herculean proposition; financing it will be equally as big. The Smith-McNary reclamation measure now before Congress may open the way.

HULL EXPECTED TO OPPOSE BECK FOR SEAT IN CONGRESS

Black River Falls Man May be Candidate Against Present Incumbent

OUTLOOK IS FOR CONTESTS IN ALL BADGER DISTRICTS

Opponent of La Follette for Senate Still Uncertain

MADISON, Wis. — The congressional political battles which are to be waged in the eleven Wisconsin districts during the September general election primaries, are commencing to attract added interest as candidates are reported here.

While the center of the fight will likely be about Senator Robert M. La Follette who will seek re-election as the leader of his faction of the republican party, each of the eleven congressional districts is to have its own contest for selection of representatives in the national government.

Just who will oppose Senator La Follette is not yet known, and may probably not be determined before the convention of the Committee of Forty-Four to be held in Milwaukee June 1.

George McKerrrow, president of the Wisconsin farm bureau federation is being prominently mentioned here, while some opponents of the senator are saying that it would be wise to raise no candidate to fight him in the primaries.

Reports here are to the effect that the Milwaukee convention may not name anyone to oppose Henry Allen Cooper, Racine, representative of the first district who has served in congress, except for a short interim, since 1892. No mention of an opponent has been made here as yet.

In the sixth district composed of Calumet, Fond du Lac, Green Lake, Manitowish, Marquette and Winnebago counties, Congressman Edouard Lambert will have strong opposition, according to expressions here. Senator W. A. Titus of Fond du Lac is said to make the race. It is said, as does Philip Lehner, a lawyer of Princeton, Senator Titus was opposed to the administration in the upper house of the legislature during the last session of the legislature, and it is believed that both he and Mr. Lehner will seek endorsement of the Citizens' Republican State conference, at Milwaukee June 1st.

Hull to Oppose Beck
Joseph D. Beck of Virgona, in the seventh district, including Adams, Clark, Jackson, Janesville, La Crosse, Monroe, Sauk and Vernon counties, will have opposition, with the probability that Martin Hull, former secretary of state for Wisconsin and speaker of the assembly, will be the candidate against him. No other candidates in this district have been named here.

While opposition is expected to develop to Edward E. Browne in the eighth district including Marathon, Portage, Waupaca, Waushara, Wood and Shawano counties, no one has yet been prominently mentioned as the opposition candidate.

The most interesting fight is expected in the ninth district including Langlade, Lincoln, Florence, Marinette, Oconto, Outagamie, Brown, Kewaunee and Door counties, where Congressman David G. Classon of Oconto, will not be a candidate for re-election because of poor health.

Hull for Congress
Elmer S. Hall, present secretary of state, has announced his candidacy for the position and has the backing of Senator La Follette and Governor Blaine. The farmer-labor group of the district, however, has endorsed George H. Schneider and is seeking his nomination in opposition to Mr. Hall. Mayor Chase of Oconto is also expected to be a candidate, with others mentioned, so that a sharp contest is looked for.

The La Follette Progressives are to oppose Adolphus P. Nelson, congressman from the eleventh district, which includes Douglas, Bayfield, Ashland, Iron, Vilas, Burnett, Polk, Washburn, Sawyer, Rusk, Price, Taylor, Oneida, and Lincoln counties. They have not yet selected their candidate, however.

No opposition has been mentioned to Edward Voigt, Sheboygan representative of the second district, of Jefferson, Columbia, Dodge, Washington, Ozaukee and Sheboygan counties, or to James A. Prear, representative of the tenth district of Dunn, Barron, Chippewa, Eau Claire, Trempealeau, Buffalo, Pepin, Pierce and St. Croix counties.

Not New — Renovated
After Mr. Brown had raked his yard he took the accumulated rubbish into the street to burn. A number of neighbors' children came flocking about the bonfire, among them a little girl whom Mr. Brown did not remember having seen before. Wishing to make the stranger feel at ease, he beamed upon her and said heartily: "Hello, isn't this a new face?"

A deep red suffused her freckles. "No," she stammered, "it isn't new. It's just been washed." —Eau Claire Leader.

In The MOVIES

"FOOLISH WIVES"—RIVOLI
The scenes of "Foolish Wives," which will be shown the rest of the week at the Rivoli, are laid in Monte Carlo and the picturesque Rock of Monaco, which is separated from it by the sapphire waves of the Bay of Genoa. One of the most striking scenes is where an American Ambassador makes his "call of state" upon the Prince of Monaco, an independent monarch whose few square miles of rocky land is really the most productive of all Europe. His principality has existed since the middle ages, when the family of the Grimaldi luckily espoused the winning side in the wars between the Guelphs and Ghiblins, and landed safely on the rocky promontory.

There was a barren glory until 1858, when M. Blanc, the master gambler, who had left Baden by request, made a contract acquiring a lease of a few rocky acres on which to establish the now famous gaming Casino. By this contract the Prince of Monaco received one-half of the income, and in addition the Casino company provided the police, army and also the fire department, which is seen in action in one episode of "Foolish Wives."

"FAITH HEALER"—MAJESTIC
"The Faith Healer" is here! This new George Melford production opens today at the Majestic for the rest of the week.

The theme of the picture is stupendous and startling. It has a beautiful love story and represents the best histrionic ability of some of the screen's greatest artists, such as Milton Sills, who plays the title role, Ann Forrest, Fontaine La Rue, Frederick Vroom, Loyola O'Connor, May Girard, John Curry, Adolph Menjou and others of note.

The story concerns a young shepherd who goes forth to heal the sick. At his greatest hour of triumph he falls in love with a beautiful girl but as he yields to his passion, he loses his spiritual powers. After many dramatic incidents, the healer realizes that God does not deny spiritual love to men and instead his ritual love to men and insanity his power to heal is restored. Paul Perry is responsible for the excellent photography and beautiful lightings.

ONLY TWO GASOLINE RAILROAD CARS ARE OPERATED IN STATE

One Operated on Southeastern and the Other on Ettrick and Northern Road

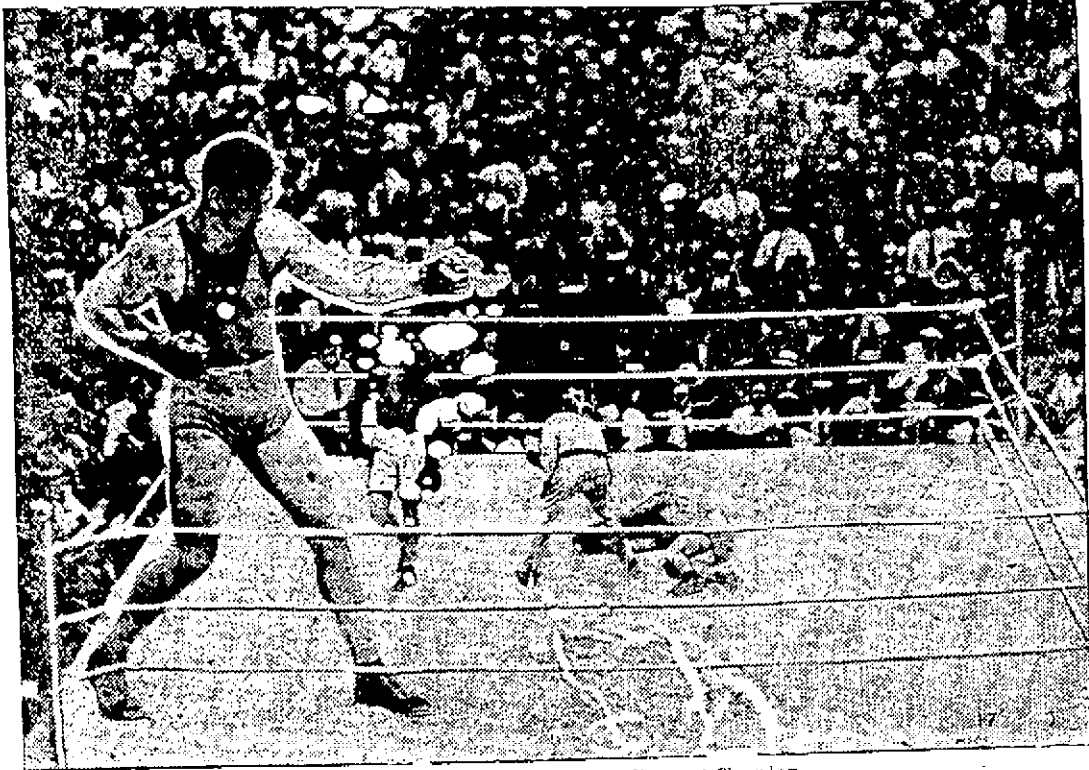

STATE RULES ROAD NEED NOT COMPLY WITH FULL CREW LAW

Other State Regulations Must be Observed, However

MADISON, Wis.—Although state officials have ruled that the gasoline cars operating on railroads need not comply with the full crew law there are just two of these gasoline cars now in operation on Wisconsin railroads. Engineer L. P. Atwood of the state railroad commission believes, however, that there is a distinct field in Wisconsin for this type of service at such points where the operating revenue may be insufficient to maintain the best schedules with a full crew steam train.

The Ettrick and Northern railroad at Ettrick started the first service of this type in 1919 with a home-made car modeled from a Ford automobile. Later a 2-ton trailer was added to the equipment to carry extra baggage. The length of this line is but 14 miles and the carrying capacity is only sufficient for five passengers.

A far larger and more modern car is now in operation on the La Crosse and Southeastern railroad between La Crosse and Viroqua, daily except Sunday. The length of this line is 42.2 miles with four intermediate stations. In this service two gasoline cars of white design are used. The average schedule speed for the motor trains is 15 miles per hour.

With the ruling that the full train crew law does not apply to this service there are still several state regulations that may work to hinder the further adoption of this method of transportation. These rules and law provide that each train must carry free individual drinking cups, medical first aid kits, lights of a non-explosive nature, axe and handsaw maintained in an accessible place, portable step where lowest car step is over 10 inches from the ground, and headlights of certain strength.

With the advent of two of these motor cars in this state it is probable that gas cars will be a subject for modified legislation at the 1923 session of the legislature.

SUNDAY MOVIES AT PRESTON BEATEN IN WARM ELECTION

Women's Vote Believed to Have Been Deciding Factor in Ballot Battle

Citizens of Preston dealt Sunday morning pictures a death blow at their annual village election Tuesday by defeating the measure by 37 votes. The women's vote is believed to have been the deciding factor in the controversy which has stirred the inhabitants of the Fillmore county seat for the past week.

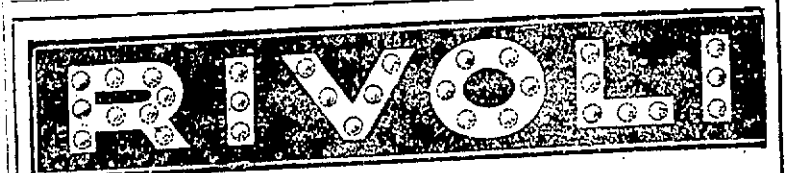

The measure was hotly contested. It was reported, and opponents and proponents were busy with automobiles bringing in voters to support or defeat the measure.

Eight candidates for the village council also added interest to the election. The men who were successful in the aldermanic race were Austin Austinson, Elmer Cummings, Dr. George Love, Dr. W. D. Grinnell and William Kuehnle. Dr. Grinnell polled the largest vote and received 415 out of 518 votes cast.

Thomas Churchill was re-elected mayor. He had no opposition. William Bach was elected marshal.

Speculations were rife at Preston today as to what form future Sunday amusements would take. Car owners were apparently not worried as to what they would do during the summer. The defeat of the measure is expected to make a material increase in attendance at Sunday night church services, it was reported.

DRY WORKERS OF 13 MIDDLE WEST STATES TO MEET IN MADISON

Conference of League Officials and Other Prohibition Workers is Called

MADISON MEETING ONE OF EIGHT CALLED IN NATION

National Officers of League to be Present

MADISON.—Conference of Anti-Saloon league officials and prohibition workers of 13 Middle Western states has been called to meet in Madison, May 25 and 26, following the Wisconsin dry law enforcement convention meeting May 23 and 24. R. P. Hutton, superintendent of the league in Wisconsin announced here today.

At this conference, the first of eight similar district conventions covering the entire country plans will be made to carry out prohibition fight into the November general election. Its purpose is said to be primarily to bring about co-operative effort in the coming primaries and elections to prevent the choice of liquor and beer sympathizers for membership in congress and state legislatures.

Discussion will also be held on proposals to standardize all state prohibition statutes so that the prohibition laws of the nation will be essentially alike and their enforcement made more uniform. Another purpose is said to be to promote and standardize popular education effort to promote respect for and obedience to all laws and constitutional provisions.

The states to be represented at Milwaukee convention and conference are Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota and North Dakota.

P. A. Baker, general superintendent.

THE COOKING SCHOOL DIPLOMA

"I have just received a diploma from the cooking school," announced the young wife to her husband one evening as they sat down to supper.

"Have you?" he replied without much show of interest. "Well, aren't you glad I have been enrolled as a competent cook?" asked the disappointed wife. "Just see, I have prepared this whole dinner! I gave especial attention to that dish there, (tosses what it is.)"

The husband was at the moment trying to chew a particularly tough piece of the contents of the dish. Observing his puzzled look, the wife repeated, "Guess what it is." "I don't know," replied the husband uncertainly. "Is it the diploma?"—Youth's Companion.

HOUSE OF DAVID AT BENTON HARBOR HAS AN ISLAND FOR SALE

Loss of Steamer Last of Ill Luck Attendant Upon Possession of Michigan Island

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—With the loss of its schooner, Rosa Belle, the House of David colony here has offered for sale High Island, a dot of land in Lake Michigan off Frankfort, and Lake Michigan off Frankfort, and over which the spectre of ill fortune has brooded since the colony purchased the property several years ago.

After weeks of fruitless investigation the colony has ceased its efforts to learn what happened to the little schooner, which was fighting its way from the island to this port last November laden with lumber and with a crew of 11 aboard. Somewhere out in the waste of water the little ship came to grief. The manner of her loss probably never will be known. A few life preservers washed ashore, and the finding of the schooner's upturned bulk off Grand Haven were the only things given up by Lake Michigan in connection with the tragedy.

Marine men here express the view the little vessel was in the path of some big ore carrier during the night and was run down without the crew of the larger ship being aware of the accident.

Loss of the Rosa Belle decided the colony to abandon the lumber business. The organization's first vessel, the Rising Sun, piled upon the shore in a November gale in 1918. Twenty The colony announces no boat will

TRAIN YOUR HAIR AS AN ACTRESS DOES

No class of people devotes as much time to beauty as actresses, no class must be more careful to retain and develop their charms. Inquiry develops the information that in hair care they find it dangerous to shampoo with any makeshift hair cleanser. The majority say that to have the best hair wash and scalp stimulator at a cost of about three cents, one need only get a package of canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply it to all the hair, instead of just the top of the head. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are quickly dissolved and entirely disappear when you rinse the hair. After this your hair will be so fluffy it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

be operated this year, that it is through with High Island for all time.

persons aboard miraculously escaped.

Two years ago a big sawmill owned by the company burned on the island. Then the Rosa Belle was lost, rounding out the series of misfortunes.

What The Consumer Buys is Service

WHAT you buy from the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is service. This service may be expressed in mileage from gasoline or reduction of frictional wear from a lubricant or a good clear flame from kerosene. Every product made by this Company is designed to render a specific, definite service.

This service to be constant and dependable must be based—first upon highest technical knowledge and second upon permanency of organization. There can be no lasting service in any manufactured article unless there be stamina in the organization that makes it.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has a long and honorable record in producing petroleum products of the highest quality.

This is because its organization is essentially scientific; because through a period of years it has built up a personnel of experts. These men know what the public demands from petroleum and they know how to create products which will supply this need.

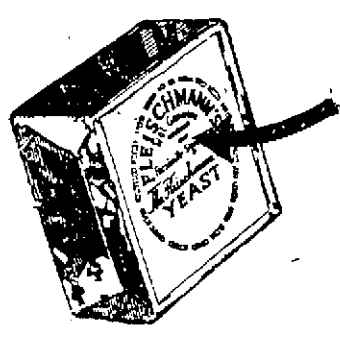

Each product conforms to a standard, set to yield maximum service. The series of petroleum products made by this Company round out a cycle of service which supplies every need of the community.

As a specific example, take candles. One might think, that in these days of gas and electricity, the humble candle had been discarded, but it has not. Twenty-two million pounds of candles are consumed yearly in the United States, of which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) last year produced 7,649,000 pounds.

Thus, through the long list of products made by this Company, the needs of small groups of people throughout 11 Middle Western States are recognized and cared for with the same forethought and efficiency, as are the wholesale requirements of motorists and manufacturers. This too, is service.

The Devoe Interior Decorating Expert Will Show You How to Bring Out the Hidden Beauties of Your Home

WOULDN'T you like to have expert advice and color suggestions on how to make your old, scarred furniture, floors, woodwork and bric-a-brac new-looking and artistic again?

Wouldn't you like to know how to transform rooms that are now lacking in distinction into gems of interior decoration?

That's just what the Devoe Interior Decorator will be here for.

She will show you how to brighten up the gloom spots in your home. She will show you how, with a little Mirrolac and Velour, brushes and a few hours of time, you can add more beauty to your home than if you spent several hundred dollars for new furniture and decorations.

Mirrolac and Velour are wonder products. Mirrolac restores scarred surfaces to their original beauty as if by a "magic touch." It gives new expensive wood a finish that imitates perfectly the appearance of more expensive woods, such as Oak, Mahogany and Walnut.

Velour is the ideal Flat Wall Finish which perfectly illustrates a principle that every great artist insists upon; namely, that there is no necessary conflict between beauty and utility; but that they are rightly considered one and the same thing.

The Devoe Expert will be at the service of our customers on the dates noted above. There will be absolutely no charge for her advice. Come in and let her help you with your home decorating problems.

ROD & REEL BY DIXIE CARROLL

THE LINE YOU CAST
Many a fish, old scout, has been lost on the first three feet of the line, not on account of the weakness of the entire line, or poor quality, but solely from the wear and fraying at the end of the bait casting line due to the friction on the guides and the pull of the bait in its start on the first few feet of the line. That is, any other part, and to be sure of your fish, you must be sure of the strength of that basic part of your tackle, the line that leads from the reel to the point of the hook. One of the big points to remember in the care of the line is to test it every now and then and break off a foot or two when it shows weakness. The snapping of a good line can be avoided by this little precaution.
Many a good lure is lost, a spoon or bucktail donated to the deep water and a fish fades away from the gaff by overlooking this little essential in the care of the line. The line may well be called the "safety first" of the bait casting outfit.
The only line to be considered for bait casting is the braided line, and of this kind we have the choice between the hard and soft braided. Of the former it can be said it wears well and absorbs practically no water, but as a casting line it takes a back seat to the soft braided affair. Owing to the ease with which the soft braided line slides from the reel, it makes the best possible line for casting, and you can thumb it all day without burning the thumb into the quick, which is more than you can say for the hard braided.
The soft braided line spools closely and smoothly on the reel and does not run down so quickly in making a cast, which gives better thumb control than with the hard braided line.

BADGERS WILL NOT ENTER REGATTA IN EAST THIS SEASON

NEW YORK.—The University of Wisconsin crew will probably be absent from the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie this summer. A letter has been received here from Harry E. Vail, coach of the Badger crew, who says he expects the lateness of the season and the fact that rowing has only recently been restored as a major sport at Madison will prevent the westerners from coming east.

URBANA, Ill.—J. Craig Ruby, coach of the University of Missouri basketball team, will coach the University of Illinois basketball team next year, Director George H. H. Wednesday night said that while no contract had been signed by the Missouri coach, terms had been agreed upon. Ruby will succeed Frank L. Whiters, who has coached the Illinois team for two years, leading them well up in the percentage column. Ruby has coached Missouri two years, and his teams have lost two out of twenty-three games in the Missouri Valley conference. He won the championship in 1921.

CENSUS FOR THE PIGS OF THE COUNTRY

A special census of the pigs of the country is about to be made through the aid of the 21,000 rural mail carriers connected with 9,500 postoffices of the country. This will cover the fourteen states of the country which are most concerned. The pig population of the remainder counts for little. The information will be of great value to the growers and the meat packers and will show the extent of the consumption of this kind of meat. A very simple and easily filled questionnaire will be circulated by the carriers to be filled out by breeders and the information asked for will be regarded as confidential.

FEWER BANKS BEING ORGANIZED REPORTS STATE COMMISSIONER

MADISON, Wis.—That there has been a distinct falling off in the number of applications for the organization of new state banks in Wisconsin was the statement of Commissioner of Banks Marshall Cousins on Thursday. Mr. Cousins says that he expects to see more banks organized when money becomes less tight.
"I do not remember that we have had over two applications since last July," said Mr. Cousins. "While we do not want to see new banks spring up unless their positions warrant it, I do think that there will be more applications when money becomes less tight."
"We now have $50 state banks and about 150 national bank consolidations have taken place recently."

POPULARITY OF PASTEURIZED MILK

The use of pasteurized milk is extending very rapidly because it is becoming to be generally understood that the milk in this shape is desirable from the standpoint of the consumer and to be free from disease germs when it is properly prepared. In 1915 seventy-eight per cent of the cities of this country with a population of $500,000 or more were receiving a milk service more than fifty per cent pasteurized. In 1921 all of these cities were pasteurizing their milk to the extent of fifty per cent.

DE MAR BREAKS RECORD FOR TWENTY-FIVE MILE MARATHON REPEATS FEAT AFTER 11 YEARS

BOSTON, Mass.—Clarence H. De Mar, in the race until the last mile, when he fell behind the leader, broke the record for the twenty-five mile marathon, held here Wednesday by the Boston A. C. De Mar, a winner eleven years ago, set a new record of 2:18:10 for the twenty-five mile course and is the fastest runner in the history of the runners.
Twenty-five mile course and is the fastest runner in the history of the runners.
Thousands of spectators crowded the course. Girls from Wellesley college went through their annual performance, originated twenty years ago, of sitting on the railroad fence at Wellesley station and cheering the contestants as they passed.

College Girls Cheer

Thousands of spectators crowded the course. Girls from Wellesley college went through their annual performance, originated twenty years ago, of sitting on the railroad fence at Wellesley station and cheering the contestants as they passed.

Ritola Finishes Second

While Ritola of the Finnish-American A. C., New York, finished second, crossing the line three minutes behind De Mar, Albert Spoko, the famous Indian runner of Detroit, was third, one minute behind Ritola, while Victor Macauley of Windsor, N. S., finished in fourth place.
De Mar ran an almost perfect race, defeating a field of sixty-seven runners from all sections of the country. Although he has not competed in the event since his victory eleven years ago, De Mar finished fresh and unshaken. De Mar is 32 years old and has been running for a distance of eight miles, each day.

Henigan Takes Lead

Thomas Henigan of Boston started out in the lead when the runners started from Ashland. He was closely followed by Frank Zuma, last year's winner, and the two set the pace until the last six miles of the race, when De Mar, Ritola and Spoko came up and took the leadership.
Mellor, Chicago's entry, was well in.

CREAMERIES WILL JOIN ASSOCIATION FOR COMMON GOOD

La Crosse County Institutions in Movement to Improve Business Conditions

Secretary T. H. Wright of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau met and conferred with the directors of the county at West Salem last Thursday, and plans were outlined for an aggressive campaign for membership. It was also decided to augment the publicity work of the secretary's office through the medium of newspaper advertising posters and an essay contest.

Weather conditions prevented as large an attendance as was expected at the series of Farm Bureau meetings held in Bangor, Holmen and West Salem last week, but the audiences were interested and enthusiastic and the work of the association will receive further impetus from the addresses of the State President. The history of the movement and the organization were brought out in a manner that demonstrated the necessity for closer cooperation upon the part of the agricultural population, and it was impressed upon the farmers that membership in the Farm Bureau is an insurance and not an investment. The fact that there is a great national organization has saved and will continue to save farmers money in many ways because of its influence upon transportation, commodities and business.

The cooperative creamery companies of La Crosse County and a number from adjoining counties, have taken the preliminary steps for the organization of an association for closer cooperation between the creameries of this section of the state with the view of further promoting the dairy industry, improving sanitary conditions in connection with milk production, uniformity in the production and grading of creamery products, cooperative purchases of creamery supplies, and co-operative marketing of all the creameries within the Association in connection with the State Bureau of Marketing. The officers are: V. S. Koppel, president; Martin Fletcher, vice president; John Larson, secretary.

The association will be incorporated without capital stock and the promoters will endeavor to not only improve conditions in the industry but also to secure higher prices for the patrons of the creameries through the standardization of the product and the labelling of the packages under the bureau of marketing and inspection labels, guaranteeing the quality.

Despite the weather conditions and the prospects for a late spring, farmers are anticipating a favorable season. The planting of the early varieties of peas for the canneries has begun and the crop will be largely in the ground before the close of the week. The average of peas is reported to be greater than that of any previous year, although the contract price to be paid to farmers is lower than last year due to the reduction in the market price of the canned goods.

Don't Throw Away Corks

Often a cork is the handiest thing to have around and yet the hardest to find. This is in spite of the fact that you pull many corks out of bottles in a week's time. A small box, labeled corks will come in handy if you put these pulled out corks in it and find a place for it on the pantry shelf.
